This is not retaliation in any way. You were attempting to violate TDCJ mail rules by sending your mail to a third party and having them mail the letter for you. I did not destroy your mail or just not send it, I returned it to you and told you exactly why I was not putting it in the mail.

I don't know the specifics on what you are referring to, however it is actually a part of our job to read through the mail, incoming and outgoing.
